

The Department of Anthropology is currently accepting all forms for review and signature via email (anthroadvising@ucsd.edu), preferably as PDF files. You can also use Adobe Acrobat Reader in the app store for phones. We recommend using the Tentative 2021-2022 Course Offerings list for course planning. Before submitting your form(s) for review, please ensure they are completed appropriately and note the following for specific forms:

Double Major Petition & Academic Planning Worksheet

- Obtain the other major department's approval and signature on both the Double Major Petition and Academic Planning Worksheet before submitting materials to Anthropology. Students must have at least 10 upper division courses unique to each major and cannot artificially add courses beyond what the major requires.
- A completed quarter by quarter plan must accompany your double major petition, for review.

Financial Aid Forms (e.g. Appeal for Maximum Timeframe, SAP Appeal, etc.)

- The form must be completed in full, with all intended courses listed in the academic plan section.

Max Unit Limit Appeal

- All courses necessary for completion of major/minor requirements must be listed.

Readmission Evaluation

- Your plan to return must be clear in the email message (e.g. Summer Session, Concurrent Enrollment during fall, winter, spring, OR taking coursework outside of UCSD). · Your form must be completed in full, with all intended courses listed in the academic plan section.

Undergrad. student petitions

- The completed petition form should include the course code, course title, the institution at which the course was or will be taken, and the Anthropology credit you wish to receive.
- Students must submit a detailed syllabus that contains the course description, textbook used, and weekly topics.
- If you plan to have multiple courses reviewed for Anthropology credit, you must submit a separate petition form for each course.
- Petitions are not guaranteed to be approved and can take up to 4 weeks to be processed.
